Jury Is Chosen for Trial Of F.B.I. Agent on Coast

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2 (AP) — Seven women and five men have been seated on the jury to hear the espionage trial of Richard W. Miller, the first agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be charged with spying.

The selection of the jury and six alternates Thursday cleared the way for opening statements in the case, scheduled for Tuesday in Federal District Court.

Mr. Miller, 48 years old, is charged with conspiring with two Soviet émigrés to pass classified documents to the Soviet Union in exchange for $65,000 in cash and gold.

His co-defendants, Svetlana and Nikolay Ogorodnikov, were sentenced to prison after pleading guilty.
